

PERU CHAMBER GROUP TOUR

LIMA › CUZCO › SACRED VALLEY › MACHU PICCHU

SITA CHAMBER-MEMBER HIGHLIGHT

The Gamarra Commercial Emporium, also known as “Gamarra”, is located in the district of La Victoria, in Lima – Peru, with great commercial movement primarily related to the textile and fashion industry.

Its growth and development since 1970 contains histories of personal effort, persistence and success. Gamarra has served as motivation and example for the creation of many small and medium Peruvian enterprises, allowing for the emergence of large brands and local stores, playing an important role in the development of the fashion and textile system in Peru.

Today Gamarra concentrates more than 10 thousand business people and 17 thousand stores distributed in more than 144 galleries located along 20 city blocks in La Victoria district. It also offers a large number of services, materials and other products related to the textile, garment and fashion industries at the local, regional and national level.

Although Gamarra provides jobs and counts as one of the most expensive rental rates in the country, as well as containing diverse histories of migration, entrepreneurship and success, the Emporium is often associated with a disorganized commercial force, disorderly transport, disregard for labor laws, the abandonment of quality in the textile productive chain and with delinquency in the neighboring areas.

In the past 40 years, the Gamarra Commercial Emporium has grown more than expected. This growth has not been planned; a fact that generates positive and negative impacts in its development and the reach it has upon the fashion community. Together with insufficient efforts by civil and business society and decision-makers, this spontaneous emergence has contributed to Gamarra not developing according to clear strategies that can optimize its growth and impact at the local, national and international level. Strategic planning, education, comprehension and action are urgent and necessary inside and outside Gamarra.

PERU CHAMBER GROUP ITINERARY

DAY 1 MAY 22: SFO – LIMA

Today you'll arrive in Lima, Peru. Upon arrival you will be met and transferred to CASA ANDINA PRIVATE COLLECTION MIRAFLORES HOTEL. Lima, the main gateway into Peru, has long been considered the colonial capital of South America. Founded in 1535 by the Spanish, as their South American capital, Lima was called "the City of Kings" by the Spanish conquistadors. Overnight at the hotel.

DAY 2 MAY 23: LIMA

This morning, visit the GAMARRA COMMERCIAL EMPORIUM. In the afternoon enjoy a city tour. Your tour begins with a drive to the Park of Love in Miraflores, the modern downtown with a view of the Pacific Ocean. The tour then continues to the modern residential suburb of San Isidro, followed by a drive to the colonial area and to the Plaza de Armas where you will see the Government Palace, the Cathedral, the Archbishop's Palace and the City Hall. The tour ends with a visit to the XVII century church and cloister of San Francisco, a world cultural heritage. Later visit the Larco Herrera Museum and see the ancient relics and shining treasures of the mighty Incas. (B)

DAY 3 MAY 24: LIMA / CUZCO /

Early this morning, you will be transferred to the airport for your flight to Cuzco, the oldest inhabited city in the Western Hemisphere. You will be met upon arrival and transferred to CASA ANDINA PRIVATE COLLECTIONS SACRED VALLEY. Following, you will travel to Pisac to see the ruins of an ancient citadel that once controlled a route connecting the Inca Empire with the Paucartambo River. The panoramas from Pisac are magnificent, offering views of the impressive patchwork effect in the countryside below, which was accomplished by patterned fields and rimmed by vast terracing cut out of solid rock. In the upper section lies the main Sun Temple and above the temple are still more unexcavated ruins and hidden burial sites. Later, visit the market for a taste of colorful local life before you return to Cuzco. (B)

DAY 4 MAY 25: SACRED VALLEY / MACHU PICCHU / CUZCO BY VISTADOME TRAIN

Travel aboard the Vistadome train from Ollantaytambo to the archeological wonder of Machu Picchu, built in the late 14th century. Machu Picchu was obviously a well-planned and carefully built city, made up of two clearly different sectors—one agricultural and the other urban. With mountains to one side and a river roaring far below, this solemn fortress is a fascinating remnant of a once-bustling city that was mysteriously abandoned after the middle of the 16th century. Secreted amidst dense jungle vegetation and steep hills, Machu Picchu remained undiscovered by the modern world until 1911. Learn about the many legends and strange truths of these ancient ruins from your local guide. Later return to Cuzco aboard the "Inca Train." Sip a cup of tea and enjoy panoramic views as the beautiful greenery of the Urubamba Valley rolls by. CASA ANDINA CLASSIC CUZCO PLAZA HOTEL. (BL)

DAY 5 MAY 26: CUZCO

Today you will visit the Kenko Ruins, located next to the Sacsayhuaman ruins in the city of Cuzco. It is believed that the Kenko ruins were an ancient ceremonial center for the Incas. Next, visit the Tambomachay Ruins, 4 miles away from Cuzco, and just over half a mile from Puca-Pucara. This is thought to have been one of the favorite resting places of the Incas, but also one of the main defense systems of the Valley of Cuzco. It is also known as Tambo de la Caverna (Cave Roadside Hostel). Tambomachay was a place for ritual bathing; the high quality of the stonework suggests that its use was possibly restricted to the higher nobility, who used the baths on ceremonial occasions. Continue your drive to Sacsayhuaman Fortress in the Valley of the Incas. (B)

DAY 6 MAY 27: CUZCO / LIMA BY FLIGHT

This morning is at leisure. In the afternoon departure transfer to airport for your flight to Lima. Arrive and connect with your flight to MIA. (B)

DAY 7 MAY 28: LIMA – SFO

Arrive home today, carrying with you fond memories of your sojourn to Peru.
